Four boys from the kindergarten.
Dramatization, Three Billy Goats, Miss Muffet, Wee Willie Winkie... IA Pupils
Interpretative Dance... Madeline Stein
Vocal Solo... Mildred Shroyer
Christmas Story... Miss Constance Hager
Saxophone Solo... Mildred Shroyer

HUMORESQUE AT TEMPLE.
"Humoresque," which comes to the Temple theater for a two day run starting Monday, is heralded by Percy Hammond, dramatic critic of the Chicago Tribune as "more wonderful than the Miracle Man." Ashton Stevens, another Chicago critic declared that every man, woman and child should see Humoresque. The story is by Fannie Hurst and tells of a boy's genius and a mother's love.

Beginning in the clamor of New York's Ghetto, it rises to the utmost heights, and then ends—where? It is a story that cries to hide its laughter and laughs to hide its tears. In it will be found more pathos than in the Music Master and more laughter than in Potash and Perlmutter.

IS IN CLUB PLAY.
Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Campbell, 526 Lincoln way E., have received word that their son, Alex S. Campbell, now a freshman at Hobart college, took the part of Pierrot in "The Master of Dreams," when that play was presented by the Geneva Woman's club last Tuesday.

COME.

TEMPLE THEATER.
Shirley Mason, the William Fox star, will appear in her latest Fox picture, "Queenie," at the Temple theater.

If you see a box dropped off the train on that day with a sign attached to it reading "Shirley Mason," don't think that Miss Mason is in it. She is dainty, but not small enough for that—and, besides, no one would think of handling the tiny star so roughly.

In "Queenie," Miss Mason is said to portray the character of a girl who starts life as a drudge in a young ladies' seminary. There are some wonderful adventures in store for the pretty wif, and so charming a little person deserves all the happiness she obtains at the end.

D. OF V. MEETING MONDAY.
The Daughters of Veterans, Helena Wolf Tent No. 7, will hold a meeting Monday evening when the annual election of officers will take place. A large attendance is requested.

THE MISHAWAKA TOP AND PAINT SHOP
In the rear of J. Hunsberger's home at 120 E. Seventh st.

Now is the time to get a No. 1 paint job, one that will last and will make your car look like a new one. Ask to see our winter enclosures made out of your old top. They will give you as much comfort as a sedan. We do all kinds of trimming, recover old tops and make new ones. We make new or repair old side curtains, place door trons on side curtains to make curtains open and close with the door, making them absolutely tight and doing away with the nuisance of buttoning up fasteners after closing.

What's the use of freezing when one can have these comforts at a very low cost?

TEMPLE THEATER TODAY ONLY

Left an orphan at a tender age, Queenie had earned her living by doing odd jobs for the pupils of a select boarding school for girls. Queenie's one ray of hope centered in her aunt Pansy, whom Queenie thought was rich. Aunt Pansy finally came for Queenie and took her—not to luxury, but to a basement and new drudgery.

Santa Claus Has Busy Shop at Red Cross Headquarters at City Hall

Corps of Aides From Various Churches and Girls' Reserve Work With Mrs. Bauer to Make Toys and Bring Cheer to Poor.

Old Kris Kringle has opened his busy shop for Mishawaka's poor kiddies and the work goes merrily on. Santa's headquarters are at the Red Cross workrooms in the city hall, where under the direction of Mrs. Sue N. Bauer, in charge of the home service of the local Red Cross, a corps of willing women and girls are busy engaged in making new toys from old ones and assembling a huge pile of clothing for distribution to the poor of the city on Christmas Eve.

Lists are being compiled by Mrs. Bauer and her associates of adults and children, and in several cases of families as units, who but for this annual effort of the Red Cross would find Christmas, 1934, a cheerless and unhappy holiday.

Attractive boxes are being packed with toys, candy, nuts, fruit and useful articles of clothing.

Not only will the kiddies be remembered by the Red Cross Santa Claus, but in many instances such essentials as food and clothing, coal and wood will be provided.

Mishawaka has a volunteer Santa Claus, who each year goes forth with Mrs. Bauer, dressed as Kris Kringle, red suit, white fur cap, flowing beard and all. His identity always remains a mystery, and his huge stature and rollicking good nature makes him a perpetual delight to the kiddies whom he visits.

It is a busy scene at Red Cross headquarters these pre-holiday days. It is a scene of service and indefatigable work, being performed by women and girls for the sheer joy of helping.

Daily shifts of workers from the Girls' Reserve of Mishawaka, recently organized by Miss Helen Lang, are busy engaged in making up little stocking bags filled with fancy candies, peanuts and other Yuletide goodies. Several of the city's Sunday school classes have made arrangements to provide Christmas dinners and Christmas gifts for special families. The Red Cross production department, composed of one or more workers from each of the local churches, have made hundreds of articles from cast off clothing, such as prettily knitted sweaters, mittens, caps and scarfs, hoppers, and even dresses.

The demands this year upon the home service branch of the local Red Cross chapter are greater than for many preceding years, due to the employment situation, and Mrs. Bauer has appealed for donations of old toys and clothing.

Those wishing to become members of this Christmas effort may communicate with Mrs. Bauer at city hall or telephone Mishawaka 2112.

BIRTH OF DAUGHTER.
